The Coyotes will meet the league leaders, the Tempests, at Eastlake Park this afternoon. Plans for the game are completed, the men are in the best of condition, batting eyes have been trained to a hair's breadth, rooting voices have been tuned and returned to harshness, and tickets enough to reach in a single row from Phoenix to the park and back have been sold. Beside, the girls of the Coyote Institute have arranged all sorts of attractions to invade the young men to the grounds, where they will separate them from the hard kale which the Coyotes need to take their Tucson University Week trip.

The Tempests are at the head of the Salt River Valley High School League. When the Coyotes dropped the 11-inning contest one week past they fell to second place, giving the Tempests the lead. However, there is still hope for the locals, and the winning of the game this afternoon will place Phoenix High away in the lead, and practically in a position to claim the pennant and valley championship.

That is the main reason for the yell in the high school district of the city. Spirit! That intangible, untouchable, ever-present and impressive article which makes a team win whether it has the goods on the other or not, has been the aim of the Coyotes for the past week. They have done one thing and another to make it, not least of which have been the ticket campaign and the assembly held at the institution Thursday.

At the assembly the girls of the school showed their particular Coyote spirit when they pulled off one of the cleverest little stunts ever slipped over on the unsuspecting assembly. Armed with horns and banners and implements of noise, and led by their leader, Miss Johnston, they marched in and gave an exhibition of yelling that made the boys sit up and take notice. The girls are determined to boost athletics to the very last ditch. They started spirit enough to defeat Tempe High School a dozen times over in the big baseball game that is to come off Saturday at Eastlake Park. This being the first game of the league between Phoenix and Tempe, it is of the utmost importance, and the girls say that all Coyote rooters should get behind the team and boost. In order to put on the biggest attraction of the season the girls prepared the following stunts to precede the ball game:

Baseball throwing contest for girls. Fifty-yard dash between three girls and any three boys of the high school, provided that the boys dress in the latest model skirts. This has been accepted by Harold Goldberg, Lester DeMund and Jake Thoman.

Girls' relay race (each running 50 yards)—Two teams of four entries each will compete.

Committee of girls will sell ice cream, popcorn, candy, chewing gum, lasses, etc.

In addition there will be a faculty relay race—Team No. 1, Fulton, Ed Turner, Jones; Team No. 2, Michaels, Elliott, Colony.

All to be followed by the big ball game.

At the end of the school hour 50 of the girls met in Miss Johnston's room and organized a girls' boosting club with the avowed purpose of getting behind all school activities for the remainder of the year.

The following officers were elected: President, Nancy Lee Heard; vice-president, Jean Walker; secretary, Cynthia Marlar; treasurer, Carmelia Ward; committee on selling cones and popcorn, Carmelia Ward, Jean Walker, Ruth Palmer; committee on yells, Jean Walker, Mabel Crozier, Jesse Robertson.

The Team
A full nine innings were played Thursday evening between a team from the postoffice and the banks, just for conditioning the Coyotes. It was a fast nine in many respects, but from the point of time it was a long one, in that the Coyotes seemed bent on staying in the bat all the time, and relinquished only after several times on the part of the Combine to make the required three outs at the end of each inning.

The Coyotes did most effective work with the willow. In fact, their swings were the most healthy they have yet taken this season, and at the start of the game they began lining out hit after hit and making run after run against three pitchers, until the final score stood Coyotes 24, Combine 2.

A goodly part of the Coyotes practiced on the Eastlake Park diamond last evening. This was that they might get used to the roll of the ball on that sand and that they might find the bases and the lay of the diamond to a better advantage. They worked out in the same snappy form they have shown all week, and if their work of today is as fast and steady as was that of yesterday the Coyotes and their supporters are all sure they will be able to take the bacon.

The Lineup

The probable lineup of the Coyotes for Saturday will be as follows: Harrison, catcher; Evans, first base; Peters or Brown, second base; Thomas, shortstop; Ellis or Bryson, third base; Haldiman, center field; Westfall, right field; Lyall, left field; Brown or Peters, pitchers; Tebbins and Mullen, umpires.

COYOTES AND RICK IN MISUNDERSTANDING

One of the Coyote ball team journeyed to the Savoy theater last night with the intention of heralding to all the assembled amusement seekers the fact that the Phoenix High School ball team would play Tempe today, but he was cut down in the flower of his eloquence by an unforeseen accident which caused the Coyote himself and his fellow members of the team to get ripped. It seems that he went to the rear of the theater and asked Fritz Fields for permission to mount the stage and speak his little "piece" at the conclusion of the first show. But he failed to tell the management out front that Fields had said all right and Fields likewise failed to mention the fact to Art Rick who is front for Mr. Jacobs, so when the oratorically inclined Coyote broke forth in what he intended as a master effort, he was ranked from the stage and Rick inquired in no gentle terms: "Who gave you permission to get up there?" "Brady," answered the astonished Coyote. Rick did highland fling and when he came back to earth, he wanted to know what the right has Brady to tell you to get up there. "I don't know," said the Coyote. "Ain't that the name of the little fellow back on the stage?" Rick cooled down after it was explained that the ball player had mixed up Fritz with Frank Brady. But some one wanted to know how the boy took Fritz for Brady, and Jake Clifford cut in with "Oh I don't know, Fritz ain't so fat."

SIEGEL STORE TO CLOSE
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
BOSTON, March 13.—The department store of the Henry Siegel Company, which was opened here a few years ago, will close tomorrow night, and 1500 employees, many of whom had money in the private bank of the store, will be thrown out of employment. A number of bank depositors will confer with the district attorney tomorrow regarding their claims.

PINNEY AND ROBINSON JOKING WITH PHOENIX

Preparatory for the cold weather, Pinney and Robinson have just received in their shops a couple of pairs of snowshoes. They are on exhibition in the store windows, on South Central Avenue, where they are attracting considerable attention.

Though they are ordered at the direction of the weather bureau for the cold weather to come, and though they are designed for several inches of white frozen atmosphere, they are not designed for use in the Salt River Valley. They will be taken to the mountains above Roosevelt, on the Tonto ranges, where they will be employed in making easier the daily tasks of the employees of the weather bureau.

The snowshoes are specially designed Canadian shoes, shipped to this state at the special order of the P. and M. sporting men. They will be held for the general public for a few days, when they will be turned over to the men for whom they are ordered.

ARMORY PLANS TO COME UP FOR CONSIDERATION

Meeting Monday Night for Discussion of New Building for A. N. G. Quarters Here

To talk over definitely the problem of the Phoenix Armory, a meeting of business men, men interested in the Arizona National Guard, and others who will wish to see the city grow in larger and better buildings will be called at the board of trade Monday evening, March 16th. Definite plans for action by the body present will be submitted, and it is thought that the meeting will result ultimately in the desired building.

It is already reported that there are three men in the city who have adequate sites for a building of the kind desired. Each of them has signified his willingness to put up an armory on his lots, in the event the A. N. G. promises to lease the building for a certain time each week through a given number of years.

On other nights than when the armory is being used for drill and other military purposes it will be rented for a convention hall, where revival meetings, lodge and party assemblies can gather in spacious halls for big events.

GOODRICH TOURS MAPS WILL BE OUT "PRONTO"

Word from Raymond Beck, tour manager for the Goodrich Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, to Harry Welch, secretary of the local board of trade, indicates that work of routing this state for maps and guide books is already under way, and that the completion of the maps may be looked for at any time in the near future.

The letter requests that the local authorities send to the touring bureau of the Akron company a small map of the city of Phoenix, locating the main streets, the roads leading from the outside of the city to the streets, and other such data of importance to the auto tourists who will be expected to use to good advantage the books compiled from the data gathered in the state.

The Goodrich company is already employed in routing the state for their signs. On each road at sufficiently close and convenient intervals signs telling distances to the nearest town or garage will be placed and at all cross roads or branches designating signs will be placed.

UNITED STATES EXPRESS (Continued from Page One.)

Murray Crane of Massachusetts, and Haley Piske, vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. It is believed the outstanding contracts with railroads will be transferred to other express companies at a fair profit. The stock was down to 35 last December, and the earnings continued to dwindle until some of the more influential interests became outspoken for liquidation.

D. I. Roberts, president of the United States Express Company, in a statement tonight said, the action of the directors was "not a threat or a bid for government sympathy" but simply that the company could not continue in justice to the stockholders, more than half of whom are women.

JEWELS WORK FOR MAROON GAME SUNDAY

Mesa Aggregation Puts in Some Hard Licks So as to Minimize Chances of Falling Before Phoenix's Husky Players

(Special to The Republican)

MESA, March 13.—The Mesa baseball team has put in several hours at good hard practice in anticipation of the game Sunday with the Maroons of Phoenix. Manager Longowski, who is usually optimistic, is responsible for the statement that the Maroons are the most systematic team players that Mesa has ever gone against. He believes that they are strongest on team work for the reason that they have played together for such a great length of time with little shifting of their lineup. Then again, the Mesa team is of the opinion that Clark is one of the best pitchers in the valley and that much will depend upon his work here Sunday.

The Mesa team has rounded into shape again. Red Pomeroy, who was unable to be in the game last Sunday on account of a game leg, is able to practice and will hold down his position in the center garden.

The lineup of the Mesa team tomorrow will be as follows: Goodman and Campbell, pitchers; Morris, c.; Bond, 1b.; Core, 2b.; Williams, c.; Mitchell, 3b.; Holland and Halverson, if.; Pomeroy, cf.; Mullins and Shumway, rf. .

TICKET AGENTS COMING TODAY

International Association's Tourists Arrive This Morning for Short Visit to Valley—Autos Needed to Carry Them

Two or three Toots! The ticket agents of the United States and Canada, who are touring for fun, will drive into Phoenix this morning fresh from a several day stop at the Grand Canyon, and ready and willing to be shown the wonders of the irrigated Salt River Valley. Three divisions of automobiles, marshaled by J. C. Parker, with J. S. Griffin as pilot of the first, Arthur Laubs in that of the second and Jack L. Holmes acting with the third, will meet the tourists at the depot, take them to the Adams Hotel for breakfast and then take them around the valley.

Edged members of the board of trade will accompany the visitors, acting in the capacities of hosts, explaining, cheerfully for the ticket sellers. There are a hundred and fifty of them—this is of ticket agents. They will occupy much room in the automobiles, therefore there must be plenty of cars. Harry Welch, secretary of the board asks again for the use of automobiles for the entertainment.

The travelers have but a few hours to pass in Phoenix, and so they must be shown a great deal in a short time. Arriving at about eight, they must catch their special again at one, leaving then for Tucson, whither they go to be still more fully initiated into the hospitality of Arizonians.

with the border during the greater part of his trip to Chihuahua. They say a force of lineemen is repairing the telegraph wires between Colonia Morelos, Sonora, and Juarez, and that Carranza will reach Morelos tonight.

To Inform on Bandits
EL PASO, March 13.—An informal agreement was reached today by which the rebels are to furnish General Hugh Scott with prompt information of the movements of bandit hands along the border. In this way the American officer, it is said, can keep his patrols on the alert and prevent occasional raids of these hands into the United States.

The committee of Spaniards having charge of the distribution of relief funds to the destitute Spanish refugees from Mexico met today and reported that the $20,000 contributed from Spain, Argentina, Cuba, Mexico City and other places had been distributed.

A letter from the Spanish minister at Washington reads to the effect that the rebels have promised that Spaniards will not be discriminated against in the future campaigns. No further information is available regarding the work of the Carranza commission investigating the Benton case.

The part of the government of further reductions in parcel post rates, and further increase in weights of the parcels they would carry, it got to the point where for us to continue in the express business, was impossible.

TEMPE REBORN BASEBALL TOWN

Will Send Team to Phoenix to Meet Senators—Clow and Reynolds, Old-timers, to Be in Line-up—Magnates Meet Monday

Tempe's rejuvenated Bears will be here to show Phoenix how far they have gone toward complete recovery from the effects of the little las spell of last fall. Dick Yates has marshalled all his forces to meet the attacking Grizzlies.

Lefty Anderson is absent from the list which the blonde manager has prepared. In his place are Krause and Staple. Krause and Staple are almost what might be termed, unknown quantities, for neither of them has played a full game against a team of the hitting qualities of the Tempe Bruins. If Big Griffen and his co-stickers are as effective on the small end of a chunk of willow, both Krause and Staple will have an opportunity to show what they are worth in the box. The word "both" is used advisedly.

Lee Long is nominated to lead the ticket on first base. Next to himself will be Brown, that highly useful machine for spearing hot liners and producing them in ungrateful amounts. Leggy Barton is named as short stop. Leggy Barton has a few little shortcomings, and a couple of big long goings. Barclay will team around on third.

In his outgarden, Yates has Reynolds. Reynolds was once before a member of this team, but not lately. And Clow. There! The name of the Happy Kid has been hidden as long as possible, and now it must be divulged. At first it was thought advisable to leave him unannounced to prance forth on right field to surprise the fans. But it was necessary to put him in to make folks believe there was a full team. Any team is full with Clow on it—full of fun. Also Robinson. Harry will play center.

The Donahue will operate behind the bat in conjunction with Krause, Staple and a mitt and mask. They are using Varney as utility men, and wielder of the psychological stick, in case of the dire need of a safe hit at any subsequent moment in the game.

This contest will be taking place at Grant Park while Frank Castle is trying conclusions with the Mesa team over there.

With two games a Sunday, meaning four teams playing, it begins to look like baseball.

The Monday meeting of baseball magnates will have representatives from each of the four valley teams, and possibly from one or two outside organizations. The purpose is to pull off a schedule for the state, an interlocking schedule that will have all the merits of set of interlocking directorates without the restraint of trade, federal indictments, and other unpleasant things that go with.

Charles Klein is writing a drama entitled "The Outsiders."

CALLAGHAN HAS HIS TROUBLES

It was pretty well understood in Phoenix last evening by the friends of State Auditor J. C. Callaghan that, in view of the further annoyances to which he has been subjected, that he will return from his investigation of the industrial school at Fort Grant sometime today. However, it is also understood that he has obtained sufficient evidence upon which to base certain definite charges against the management of the institution and upon which the public hearing authorized by the board of control last Friday will be held.

In the meantime the board of control has appointed a new matron to take the place of the one fired about six weeks ago. Of course, the school has not been without the services of some one to look after these duties, but an appointment of a regular matron has been made pending the application of a suitable person to take such a position. Yesterday the board authorized the employment of Mrs. Frances Cole of Phoenix, very well known here in connection with her able work at the Florence Crittenton Home for some time prior to her marriage. It is generally believed that she is the right person for the position.

But to return to the matter of the investigation. Only rumor can be relied upon for the information that is going the rounds, as the officials directly connected have not spoken for publication upon the matter. However, it is well understood that when the auditor reached Fort Grant upon his return trip, armed with an opinion of the attorney-general's department giving him authority to conduct a private inquiry prior to his public investigation, he was met by Superintendent Whipple, and after some considerable parley an agreement was entered into relative to the conduct of the inquiry.

Superintendent Whipple agreed to give all assistance possible providing a copy of the evidence acquired be given him as soon as the same was transcribed, to which Mr. Callaghan agreed. This was made of record in a letter from the auditor to the superintendent. Meanwhile, however, a communication had been had by the superintendent with the board of control in Phoenix over the matter of the employment of the stenographers of the auditor to take down the statements, and following instructions received from Phoenix, the
